Restoration of the Windham Club

Born in 1922 as an exclusive private country club, the Windham Club has been restored and opened to the public. Set on 120 acres of lovely parkland, our facility boasts an 18-hole championship golf course, two restaurants, and extraordinary indoor-outdoor spaces for banquets and events of any size.

Turning a venerable but fading landmark into a modern and festive facility required combining a sense of tradition with a drive for innovation. Working with original steel beams uncovered during our work, and new ones added later, we combined a sense of traditional New England industrialism in the space with the clean lines and well-lit spaces that define a modern sensibility.

To take advantage of our half-mile views, we built a 2000 sq ft deck and surrounded it with cedar and steel rebar railings. Those railings support our “infinity tables” — “tables for two with a view”. Inside we combined seasonal colors with three chandeliers comprised of flying glass shards to create a dynamic look, and added a festive, almost Caribbean bar, just for fun.

Whether it is Chef Dennis Anderson’s novel New American Cuisine, the innovative architectural features of our clubhouse, or the classic design and conditioning of our golf course, you can expect the best at the Windham Club.

What do we mean by “original New England golf”? Our course remains true to the prevailing design precepts when golf was new to America! It plays firm and fast, and can be played “on the ground” as well as “in the air”. Our course rewards ingenuity and not repetition. It is challenging without being tricked up, and it is in great condition. As we continue to enhance the layout and reconfigure some holes, we will always be true to the original design intentions.

Golf

OUR GOLF CLUB is, first and foremost a public, community facility. Come play for a day, join for one year or join forever. We offer a championship caliber course that is only going to get better as we bring modern techniques and agronomy to its classic design. We are home to three high school golf teams, and we are honored to be the UConn team's practice facility.

At the Golf Club at Windham, we think golf should be a social experience, so our annual members enjoy tournaments, leagues, and regular get-togethers, on and off the course. We have one of the best “walking courses” in Connecticut. When you walk you have to eat, so we also have the best pub and restaurant in the area.

Dine

Windham Seasons

WINDHAM SEASONS RESTAURANT

Our Executive Chef, Dennis Anderson doubles down on seasonal Modern American Cuisine in a restaurant that literally moves with the seasons, from our sunny east side and deck in the Spring and Summer, to our fireplace-centered west side in the Winter. Try our extraordinary "almond shrimp" appetizer, or just settle in with a bistro steak for the evening. Just the best, and all at reasonable prices.

BILLY'S GRILL

After golf, after work, for lunch or dinner or just for drinks, Billy's Grill is the best pub in the region. Chef Dennis spins out variations on traditional deli and pub classics that have everyone saying "Gimme some of that!" Pick any of a dozen craft brews on tap and enjoy a meal indoors with our 60-inch TV, or outside in the sun or shade overlooking the 16th green.

WINDHAM EVENTS

The indoor and outdoor spaces at our newly renovated clubhouse offer the perfect setting for great food with friends, not to mention celebrations of every kind. Chef Dennis brings a creative flare to all of his cuisine, whether it's pub fare in Billy's Grill, seasonal modern American cuisine at Windham Seasons, or a banquet for one hundred.

Our restaurant spaces combine together to seat up to 140 for a banquet or wedding, or divide to comfortably entertain groups of 20 to 80. Everything has been restored or renovated, from the art deco steel beams, to the glass art chandeliers, to the festive summer bar and the infinity tables built right into the deck railing outdoors. Combine that with Chef Dennis' cuisine and you have a recipe for a great time.
